OU FACTS AND HISTORY

The University of Omaha, 55 years an institution of higher learning, was founded in 1908 as a private, non-sectarian, co-educational school. The University became municipal in 1931.

The present campus, on the fringe of Omaha when the Administration Building was opened in September of 1938, has grown with the city of Omaha, now 330,000 population. In 1949, the second building on campus was opened--the $750,000 fieldhouse-stadium.

Full educational and athletic programs are offered the University's 9,000 students, of which 4,601 are full-time day students.

SPORTS IN REVIEW

Omaha University has earned an enviable reputation for the quality and character of its athletic teams and currently is a member of the Central Intercollegiate Conference (CIC) and the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA).

Six Indian sports squads won more than they lost in 1963-64.

Cross Countrymen won 5, lost 0; the football team won a second straight CIC title and finished 7-2; Indoor cindermen won four straight triangular meets and outdoors they captured two duals without a loss; The successful baseball team won 18 of 20; the basketball team was 12-11 and second in CIC play for their best mark in nearly a decade; Golf, Tennis and wrestling squads were all near the .500 mark.

Included in the successful 1963-64 season were many honors to OU athletes. Tackle Jack Petersen was named All-American. The cross country team was eighth in the nation as a team. Trackmen Roger Sayers, Terry Williams and Ken Gould were among national leaders. Conference championships were won by the football and baseball squads. The cage squad was runnerup in CIC play. Jim Jones, a wrestler, was named to compete in the Olympic trials.

Highlights of the year included football victories over Idaho State, Northern Michigan and Drake University, basketball wins over NAIA Champion Rockhurst and CIC toughie Pittsburg, and a baseball victory over Mayville (N.D.) State in NAIA playoofs.

Petersen, OU's All-American tackle, was drafted by the professional Green Bay Packers and pitcher Larry Krehbiel was a leader in national rankings in baseball.

THE 1964 INDIAN PROSPECTUS

Dependence on newcomers, team morale and field leadership are the three most important factors in Omaha U.'s football outlook.

"We can make a representative showing if our recruits fill in and perform as anticipated, if we can find evidence of some field generalship, if our present morale holds up and if we can hold together for the first two or three games," Coach Al Caniglia pointed out.

"Right now 1964 is very questionable despite the fact that we have a fair nucleous of 18 returning lettermen," he continued.

"Recruits will have to fill our weak spots caused by graduation and provide the needed depth which you must have as the season progresses," he said.

Caniglia continued: "We should be the type of team which improves as the season moves along. This should be helpful, especially in the conference race."

Another tough schedule awaits the Indian gridders.

"The opposition is really going to be rough," the veteran coach noted.

Breaking it down, Caniglia noted that "Overall the backfield is less experienced and probably not as quick as the past, but our backs are bigger and might be better than blocking backs in the past."

Strong spots on the club should be: left half-back with Gerald Allen returning; Quarterback especially as the season progresses; End is single strongest position with three lettermen; Guard with four returnees.

Center is much improved, fullback is the best balanced position, and other positions only fair.

Weak spots include: Offensive tackle and defensive interior. There are virtually no returnees at these spots.

"Overall, it will be an interesting season," Caniglia said.

The 1964 club will be a hustling-type of club because they "will have to be."

Prospects could be better than indicated if the new recruits come through with good performances.

Regarding CIC play, Caniglia believes Pittsburg will be stronger and a title contender, Washburn is building but don't sell Fort Hays and Emporia short in the race.
